THE AUSTRALIAN BBQ STYLE

Discover the boundless possibilities of the Grandhall Barbecues

The very successful Premium, Maxim and Elite models have a new brother, the new Classic G2. All with improved cast aluminium sides. It does not only look better, but it makes the hood also very sturdy and robust. The large thermometer also clearly shows the temperature. In addition, the models remain available as built-in barbecue, trolley barbecue and island barbecue, a nice modular concept. A big advantage of these models is that they come with 304 stainless steel burners as standard.

A optional side burner with sear burner is also available. Instead of a normal gas burner, this side burner contains a strong sear burner with grate. This gives the possibility to sear the meat on the side burner and continue cooking on the BBQ. You can also prepare a delicious sauce in a pan.

For the lovers of stainless steel, the Elite built-in barbecue is entirely made from 304 stainless steel. Aluminum knobs and Thermo-core stainless steel grates provide the ultimate grill performance. The perfect combination of performance and technology for years of grilling fun. Starting from this year the Elite is also available as an complete stone island set.

The new Xenon 3 and 4 black edition is really a picture to see. This BBQ is made of powder coated steel. The outdoor kitchen is equipped with all kinds of extras such as a foldable side shelf, side burner, storage space for the gas cylinder and a thermometer. The coal grill is built even more robust and equipped with 2 cast iron grates and a hotplate as standard.

Accessories
Grandhall presents, in addition to the extensive barbecue series, a beautiful collection of high quality BBQ accessories to enhance the outdoor grill experience. Gloves, skewers, toolsets and lots of other handy gadgets that you can use for tasty and safe barbecuing.
